WATER COOLING SYSTEM

Bringing water cooling to the Dynamic and Ecomak ranges.

- Fine spray mist directed onto the cutting surface, reducing heat and dust.
- Helps to prevent thermal damage to the dental tissues.
- Especially useful when widening diastemata or making reductions to large overgrowths.
- Clever design allows the fine mist to be expelled in the correct place even on the curved handle when the head has been positioned in a different orientation.

Water cooling handpieces are compatible with our whole range of heads and burs

Head rotates into four different positions

DYNAMIC "Pro" Forceps

Introducing a new and improved range of DYNAMIC "Pro" Forceps which have been designed in collaboration with leading equine veterinary dental specialists.

These forceps have been developed on a heavy duty frame but are lightweight enough to allow for one handed operation to ensure comfort and reduce operator fatigue.

This new design significantly increases the success rate of oral extraction. They have a square box joint which gives the forceps added strength and also helps prevent them from slipping off fulcrums during extractions.

Triangular Inserts

Rotate for a fresh razor sharp blade

Triangular inserts (X-files) have three sides and stack together to create three cutting surfaces. The three/four groove pattern is designed to hold a steady line while working on the arcades.

These super strong inserts are made from Tungsten Carbide and are designed to be long lasting. The Titanium Nitride coated option increases durability.
